Discernment -The Quiet Light of the Soul.

In a world that rushes forward with noise and haste, discernment is the calm harbor where clarity and understanding take root. It is the invisible compass that helps us see beyond the surface, feel beyond the obvious, and choose with both courage and compassion. To discern is to listen to the whispers of the heart, the gentle stirrings of conscience, and the subtle guidance of the spirit within.

It is not a sudden revelation but a cultivated art-an ability to pause, reflect, and act with insight. Discernment turns ordinary decisions into acts of purpose, every choice into a stroke of mindful creation. It transforms knowledge into understanding, opinions into empathy, and intentions into meaningful action.

In nurturing discernment, we nurture the soul itself. It teaches patience in moments of rush, humility in moments of pride, and love in moments of indifference. Like a soft lantern in the darkest night, discernment illuminates the path ahead, revealing not only what is right but what is truly worth pursuing.

May we listen deeply, choose wisely, and allow discernment to guide our hearts and minds every day.

Discernment-The Hidden Symphony of Wisdom that Sustains the Soul of Liberty

“Freedom is nothing else but a chance to be better.”

Freedom, like the dawn of August skies, shines brightest when guided by wisdom. Independence is not the license to walk any path, but the grace to walk the right one. Discernment is that unseen compass-quiet, steady, and faithful-leading students, teachers, and parents alike away from fleeting illusions into choices that give life its true radiance.

In the freshness of youth, when dreams burst forth like monsoon rivers, students discover discernment as the gentle embankment that prevents those waters from flooding into waste. It whispers that not every easy road is worth the journey, and not every cheer will last beyond the echo. To listen to that whisper is to discover a freedom deeper than impulse-the freedom to build a destiny of endurance and light.

In the sacred space of guidance, teachers find discernment to be the fine brushstroke that paints balance. It colours firmness with compassion, discipline with patience, and knowledge with humility. Such choices are the truest liberty, for they carve not just scholars but souls who can walk unafraid in truth.

In the quiet guardianship of love, parents recognise discernment as both anchor and sail. It steadies the hand that longs to protect, yet unfurls the courage to let go. It teaches that real freedom is not found in holding too tightly, but in allowing growth-even through stumbles, even through storms-until strength takes root and blossoms.

Thus discernment, like freedom itself, is never loud yet always alive. It speaks in different tongues to students, teachers, and parents, yet carries one message: independence is preserved not in flags that flutter for a day, but in lives that quietly choose what is good, what is true, and what is loving. Let us, then, gift our freedom to one another through wise choices-choices that comfort, inspire, and heal. For in the end, the greatest mark of freedom is not how high a nation stands, but how tenderly its people hold one another

. “Freedom is not the absence of care, but the presence of love that guides every choice.”

Vice Principal's Message

Fr. Reji Koodapattu CMI

Discernment – The Light of Freedom Guided by the Spirit.

Freedom is a gift every heart longs for, but it shines its brightest only when guided by wisdom. Discernment is that quiet friend who walks beside us, reminding us which turns lead to light and which lead to shadows. It does not shout; it whispers. Yet, if we pause and listen, it becomes the truest music of our soul.

Without discernment, liberty can lose its way, like a river spilling beyond its course. But with it, freedom flows steady and strong, carrying hope, courage, and meaning. Each choice we make-whether small or great-becomes a brushstroke painting the canvas of our lives. Discernment teaches us to colour our freedom with kindness, patience, and truth.

In today's world, where voices often clash and confusion is plenty, discernment helps us breathe, step back, and choose love over haste, honesty over ease, and peace over pride. That is when freedom becomes more than celebration-it becomes a way of living with dignity and grace.

Ultimately, discernment is not only the wisdom of the mind but the whisper of the Spirit within. It calls us to see beyond ourselves, to listen to God's gentle voice, and to walk the path where freedom and faith meet. For true liberty is not just doing what we wish, but becoming what we are called to be in the light of God.

"Listen to that quiet voice of wisdom within you, for it will always guide your steps. Choose with courage, act with love, and let your freedom become a light that inspires others."

INDEPENDENCE DAY

India's Independence Day, celebrated on August 15th, is a vibrant testament to the nation's struggle for freedom. It commemorates the day in 1947 when India achieved independence from British rule, ending nearly two centuries of colonial dominance. The day is a tribute to the countless freedom fighters and revolutionaries, like Mahatma Gandhi, Jawaharlal Nehru, and Bhagat Singh, whose unwavering resolve and sacrifices paved the way for a new dawn. Their legacy reminds us that liberty is a precious and hard-won right, not a given.

The celebration of Independence Day goes beyond mere remembrance; it's a reaffirmation of our democratic values, cultural diversity, and national unity. Parades, flag-hoisting ceremonies, and cultural programs across the country fill the air with a sense of patriotism. The Prime Minister's address from the Red Fort in Delhi is a key highlight, where they reflect on the country's achievements and outline future aspirations.

This day serves as a powerful reminder of our responsibilities as citizens to uphold the principles of justice, equality, and fraternity. It inspires us to work collectively for a progressive and inclusive society, honouring the ideals for which our forefathers fought.

Ultimately, Independence Day is a celebration of the spirit of a billion-plus people united by a shared history and a common destiny. It is a day to reflect on the progress we have made and to renew our commitment to building a stronger, more prosperous India for generations to come.

CHRISTITES EXPLORE THE WONDERS OF SPACE AT VISVESVARAYA SCIENCE MUSEUM

On the 23rd of August, few students from Christ School ICSE were invited to the Visvesvaraya Science Museum on the occasion of National Space Day. It was an exciting and fun filled day where students got to explore science in a fun new way. One of the most exciting parts was experiencing the Wright Brothers flying stimulator, which gave a feel of how the early planes flew. Later, the students took part in a quiz and a science talk. We are proud to share that Sai Harshita won 3rd place in the quiz, John Jacob won 3rd place in the ppt and Shawn Kariyattil won the special prize. Students also listened to an inspiring talk by Mr. Shri T Subramanya Ganesh, deputy director of ISTRAC. He spoke about ISRO's latest missions, space navigation, and satellite communication. After the talk, he kindly answered questions from the students. There was also a special exhibition titled "From Ancient Skies to Modern Horizons". REPORT ON THE LAW & AWARENESS SESSION

On 25th August, 2025, we, the students of Classes 7 and 8, had the opportunity to attend a very informative session on Law & Awareness – Laws Related to Children. The session was organised by the Quality Enhancement Committee, and the resource person was Shri Muhammed Khan M. Pathan, a retired District Judge and currently a respected Arbitrator in Bengaluru.

Shri Pathan shared his experiences from his judicial career and spoke about the importance of law in protecting the rights of children. He explained how laws are meant to safeguard our education, health, safety, and dignity. He emphasized that children must be aware of their rights, but at the same time, we should also learn to respect our responsibilities as young citizens.

The session was very engaging and easy to understand. Shri Pathan spoke with great humility, which made us feel comfortable asking questions and thinking deeply about the role of justice in our lives. What impressed me most was his advice that fairness, honesty, and respect for others should always guide our actions.

This session truly inspired me to be more responsible, empathetic, and law-abiding. It made me realize that awareness of the law is not just for adults—it is equally important for students like us.

A SEMINAR ON LEGAL AWARENESS

On 28th August 2025, a seminar on Legal Awareness was organized under the initiative Meet the Great – “Real People, Real Purpose” by the Quality Enhancement Committee. The session was graced by Prof. Dr. Sairam Bhat, Professor of Law at the National Law School of India University and Co-Director of the Centre for Environmental Law, Education, Research and Advocacy (CEERA).

The seminar aimed to enlighten students about the importance of understanding and following the law in everyday life. Dr. Bhat emphasized that obedience to law is a fundamental duty and that ignorance of the law is not an acceptable excuse for committing crimes. He warned that when a youth commits an offence, it could lead to serious consequences such as loss of future job opportunities or denial of admission to educational institutions.

He also highlighted that youth are not only responsible for themselves but also accountable to their families, with even parents potentially held liable under certain legal provisions. The thought-provoking discussion drew attention to the distinction between legality and ethics, reminding students that not everything legal is necessarily ethical. Dr. Bhat responded to students' questions with professionalism and insight, fostering a highly interactive and engaging environment. Rather than relying on a conventional lecture format, he enriched the session with well-crafted narratives and relevant real-life examples, making complex legal ideas accessible and relatable to the audience.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks by Fr. Nilson Davis CMI, our Principal, who shared his reflections and concluded with a powerful message: “Where there is law, there is freedom.”

KISA LITERARY AND CULTURAL EVENTS 2025

The much-awaited KISA Literary and Cultural Events 2025 took place this July and August, bringing together young voices and bright minds from CISCE schools across Karnataka. Hosted at various schools, the fest was a celebration of creativity, language, and expression.

Students competed in a wide range of events, including Debate, Declamation, Painting, Quiz, Creative Writing, Music, Drawing, and many more, held across different grade categories.

Every time we arrived at a competition, the atmosphere was buzzing with excitement. There was a sense of healthy competition, but also mutual respect and encouragement among participants from different schools.

Beyond the awards, what made the event special was the chance to meet and learn from students of other schools. Watching talented speakers made us appreciate how powerful language can be when used with clarity and emotion.

Participating in the "KISA Literary and Cultural Events 2025" gave us an opportunity to develop our language skills, critical thinking, and stage presence. These events not only encouraged creativity but also fostered healthy competition and inter-school camaraderie. We also received valuable feedback from experienced judges which helped us understand how to refine our skills even further. We would like to express our gratitude to our Principal, Fr.Nilson Davis CMI, who gave us this wonderful opportunity to participate.

"KNOWLEDGE IS A TREASURE, BUT PRACTICE IS THE KEY TO IT."

Nine of us from our school had the privilege of representing ourselves at the GWHMUN 2025 Model United Nations held at Greenwood High, Bangalore from 28th to 30th August 2025. With over 500 student delegates from nearly 50 schools, spread across 11 committees, the conference was an arena of ideas, diplomacy, and rigorous debate.

Each committee reflected the authentic procedures of the United Nations, conducted with remarkable discipline and integrity. For us, this participation transcended the boundaries of routine academics, offering invaluable exposure to the art of diplomacy, critical thinking, and global awareness. Over three days, we witnessed the immense power of dialogue and the responsibility of representing nations, sharpening our skills in persuasion and collaboration.

The valedictory ceremony was graced by Sri T.S. Tirumurti, former Permanent Representative of India to the United Nations, whose illustrious diplomatic career served as an inspiration to all delegates. My own joy reached its peak when I was honoured with the Commendable Judge award, presented with a certificate and a cash prize, a recognition I owe to divine blessings, the encouragement of our Principal, the guidance of my teachers, and the unwavering support of my family.

"Lady Macbeth: The Making and Unmaking"

She walks in fire, cloaked in night,
For eyes that burn for crown and right.
A serpent's tongue, a raven's cry—
She bids her soul to do and die.

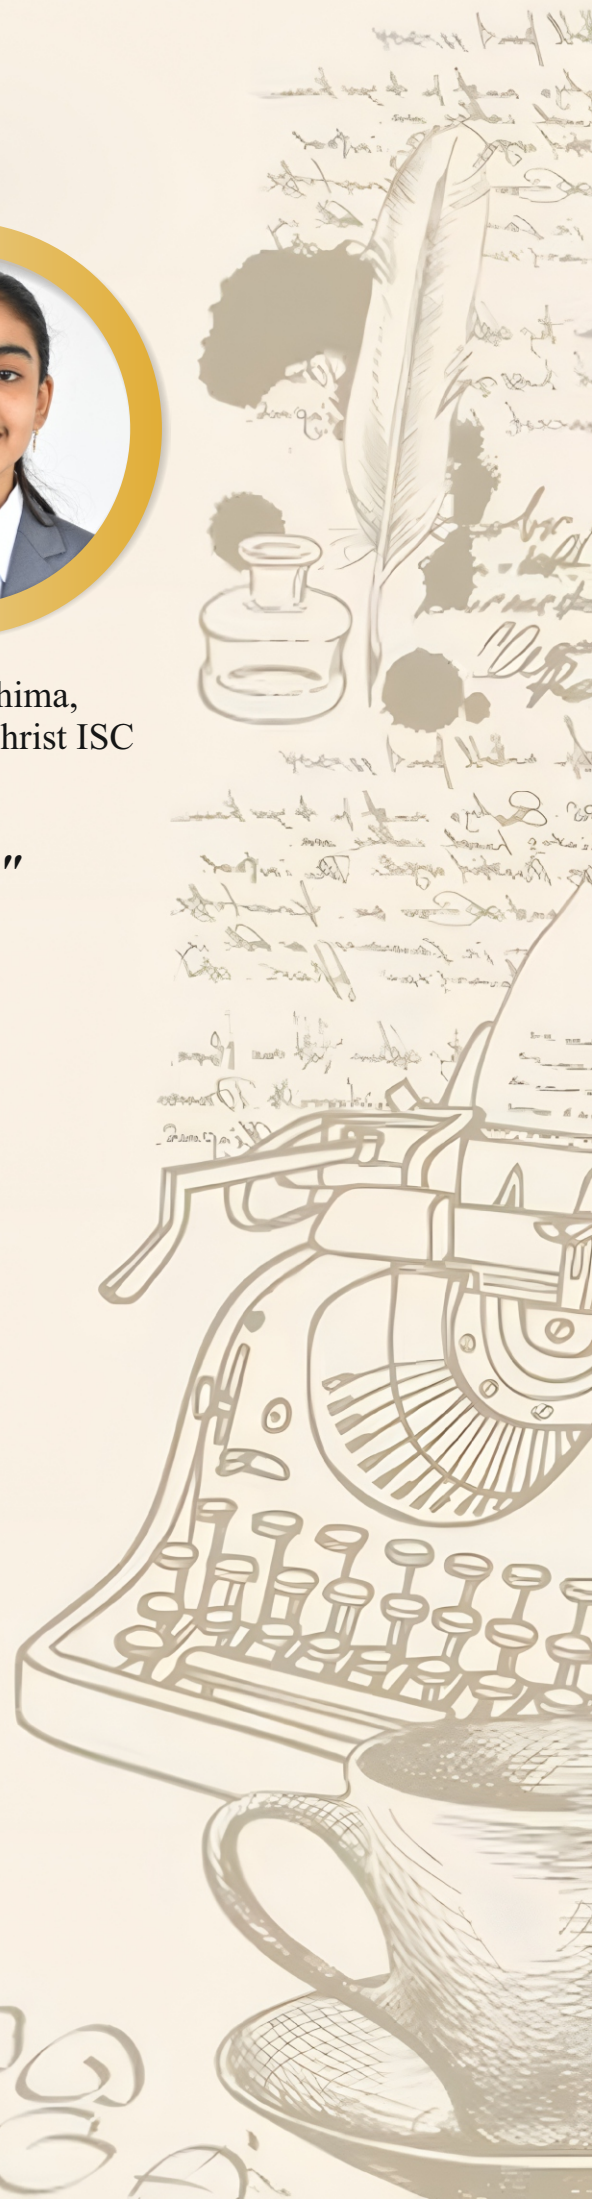

“Unsex me here,” she dares the skies,
To shed her tears, her fears, her ties.
Ambition drums within her chest,
A storm that will not let her rest.

She molds her man with cunning art,
And steels the tremble from his heart.
“Look like the flowers,” she softly pleads,
“But be the serpent 'neath the weeds.”

Yet blood once spilt will not obey—
It stains the soul, not just the clay.
Her hands, once bold, begin to shake,
A queen undone by what she'd make.

In the candle's glow, she walks alone,
A ghost within her flesh and bone.
“Out, damned spot!” she cries in vain,
A fragile mind dissolved in pain.

So fierce she rose, so far she fell,
From vaulting dreams to a haunted shell.
The name that echoes with each breath:
The curse, the crown—Lady Macbeth.
